Creating Positive Outcomes for Marital Discord

The Collaborative Law Process

Who Should Attend

This seminar is designed for those who work or volunteer in faith based organizations and are interested in learning more about collaborative law and interest based solutions to legal conflict in order to benefit those they know who are struggling with, or are considering, marital separation and divorce.

Seminar Overview

Charmaine Panko, Collaborative Lawyer and Mediator from Miller Thomson LLP and Wendy Johnston, CFP, CDFA from Next Step Financial Solutions Inc. will be presenting on the collaborative law process that can be used to prevent and reduce the impact of separation and divorce on all parties involved. We will be presenting on dispute resolution processes that are designed to:

- Assist parties in conflict to develop a framework for healthy communication in the hope that the marriage may be reconciled
- Provide an alternative to going to court in the event that reconciliation is not possible
- Reduce the impact of separation and divorce on all family members, and in particular the children
- Educate on options available, legally and financially, ensuring equitable solutions are reached that respect the family's value and belief systems with less stress and at a lower cost.
