Lynn Ramsay brings over five decades of experience in the field of commercial real estate law. Since becoming a member of the Bar of British Columbia in 1972, Lynn has been a trusted advisor to developers, landlords, and lenders, offering comprehensive legal support in property acquisitions, financing, and compliance matters. Her role includes negotiating agreements, overseeing development approvals, and dealing with lease agreements. Lynn's experience has earned her a place as a senior counsel ensuring the smooth operation of real estate ventures.

Lynn's academic achievements and practical experience position her as a seasoned legal professional for clients in complex real estate transactions.

Lynn's credentials include being a former member of the American College of Mortgage Attorneys. She has contributed to the legal community through her work as the former chair of the National Real Estate section of the Canadian Bar Association. A writer and lecturer, Lynn has written on various real estate topics.
