Michael Prosia's practice focuses on litigation with an emphasis on insurance and condominium disputes. He prides himself on coming to creative legal solutions while remaining sensitive to client needs. In addition to an insurance practice that includes all facets of insurance litigation including tort, accident benefits, long term disability, and subrogation, Michael also routinely advocates for condominium corporations in a wide range of litigation issues, from shared facilities disputes to construction deficiencies. Michael Prosia combines creativity with client sensitivity, navigating complex legal terrain while keeping your best interests in mind.
