Steve Robertson, a seasoned commercial litigator and trial lawyer, is dedicated to guiding clients through legal and business conflicts with practicality. Focusing on business disputes, competition law, fraud recovery, anti-corruption counsel, and professional regulation and discipline across various sectors, Steve places an emphasis on strategy in commercial litigation, efficient asset recovery from fraud, and proactive responses to competition and foreign corruption issues. Clients benefit from his deep knowledge in health law and valuable insights on fraud prevention, a testament to his active involvement in professional organizations.

Steve's contributions as an author/editor of the "Alberta Civil Practice Manual" and his role as a guest lecturer and facilitator in various educational institutions underscore his passion for legal education and advocacy. He has also served as president of the Sir Winston Churchill Society of Calgary, a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of wartime leader's memory through the sponsorship of high school and university debates.

Steve's active memberships with the Canadian Bar Association, Calgary Bar Association, Association of Certified Fraud Examiners, The Advocates' Society and Transparency International highlight his commitment to legal excellence. Additionally, his distinguished rating in the LexisNexis Martindale-Hubbell shows his credibility and standing within the legal community.
