

Stewart Whittingham

Director, Culture and Belonging

Toronto

OFFICE

416.595.8165

swhittingham@millerthomson.com

Biography

EDUCATION

- ADLER Graduate Professional School – School of Professional Coaching (September 2021)
- Centennial College / Canadian Centre for Diversity and Inclusion – Certificate in Inclusion and Leadership (December 2020)

Stewart Whittingham is our Director of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion. With more than two decades of experience in legal talent management, he focuses on inclusive leadership strategies and diversity advocacy. Stewart is heavily involved in national equity initiatives, driving change for a more inclusive and respectful environment.

Stewart's educational pursuits reflect his commitment to inclusivity. He recently completed a certificate in inclusion and leadership from Centennial College and the Canadian Centre for Diversity and Inclusion, as well as a professional coaching program from ADLER Graduate Professional School.

Stewart is an active member of numerous organizations, including the Canadian Centre for Diversity and Inclusion and the Law Firm Diversity and Inclusion Network. His commitment to excellence in diversity and inclusion was recognized through the 2017 Canadian Human Resources Award, for his role in the 1L Indigenous Internship Program.

Industry involvement

Recognition

- 2017 Canadian Human Resources Award – Excellence in Diversity and Inclusion (Team Member – 1L Indigenous Internship Program)

Memberships & affiliations

- The Canadian Centre for Diversity and Inclusion
- Law Firm Diversity and Inclusion Network
- Human Resources Professionals Association
- International Coaching Federation
- Professional Development Consortium